

Possible interview questions for Mark Mittelberg regarding his newly released book, CONFIDENT FAITH: Building a Firm Foundation For Your Beliefs

1. “Confident Faith” is an interesting term ... especially since a lot of people think that you either have faith or you don’t. What do you mean when you use the term “faith”?
2. Do only religious people have faith?
3. Looking at your new book, Confident Faith, it looks like it’s basically two parts; what are those? (1. How we know – Faith Paths; 2. What we know – 20 Arrows of Truth)
4. Okay, let’s talk about the first part – How we know. You describe 6 different approaches to knowing truth – you call them “Faith Paths.” What are those? (Generic description.)
5. Can you quickly explain a few of those Faith Paths?
6. How do those paths relate to being confident in one’s faith?
7. It looks like you give extra weight to the 6th Faith Path. Is that true – and, if so, why?
8. So how does that relate to the second part of the book – the 20 Arrows of truth?
9. So this is a list of 20 reasons for – what? (Confidence in the truth of Christianity)
10. These 20 reasons seem to come from a lot of sources? (Science, philosophy, history, archeology, evidence related to the Bible, experience, etc.)
11. Give us some of the most compelling examples (or the interviewer might want to key in on a few that will best relate to his/her audience)

12. Why do you call these 20 reasons “Arrows of Truth”?
13. So where does all of this information point?
14. Who did you write this book for? (First for Christians; second for our non-believing friends ... ideal evangelistic giveaway)
15. Where can folks order the book/get more information?
