Does God Exist?

New Series from Focus on the Family Equips Students to Defend Their Faith

January 2010, CAROL STREAM, IL—Many Christian students graduate from high school unaware that they'll soon face the toughest test of their lives—a test of heart and mind. Colleges and universities challenge young adults in ways that make them question their faith and convictions while immersed in a culture that says their beliefs are absurd and impractical.

The TrueU™ series, produced by Focus on the Family and Tyndale House Publishers, will help students prepare to face tough questions about their faith and Christian worldview by solidifying what they already know as truth with evidence to back it up.

In TrueU: Does God Exist?, the first DVD of the series, Dr. Stephen Meyer plays a “philosophical survival game,” pitting four worldviews against each another in the quest to decide which one gives the best answers. Dr. Meyer helps teens examine the evidence and provides the tools they need to defend their faith and make it their own. Some of the lessons covered include:

- Faith and Reason
- The Big Bang Cosmology
- DNA by Design
- The Return of the God Hypothesis
- The Moral Necessity of Theism

The kit for TrueU: Does God Exist? includes two DVDs with ten 30-minute lessons, and a 64-page, full-color booklet with discussion questions to be used in group study. Through this series, parents and youth leaders will have the opportunity to discuss the Christian worldview and spiritually prepare their teens to defend their faith in an increasingly hostile culture.
